When Does a Sales Tax Assessment Become Criminal?

Why are some people charged criminally when involved in a sales tax dispute while others are not? Perhaps part of the answer lies in how an audit is handled. Having a sales tax professional that knows how to advocate for a client without antagonizing the auditor is imperative. We also help clients correct prior errors and prospectively set up proper reporting procedures. This can help demonstrate to the tax department that errors are not deliberate or intentional.

We understand that our clients have many options on who can represent them on a tax audit. Choosing the right option (Sales Tax Defense LLC) may help you avoid criminal charges.
