SALES TAX ON HALF A GLASS OF WATER

It is that time of year where we all give THANKS for what we have, and are especially grateful for the health of our families and loved ones. We at Sales Tax Defense LLC are also grateful for the trust our clients put in us, the faith our fellow professionals show every time they refer us one of their clients, and I greatly appreciate the hard work and support that my team continues to give the firm every day.

While we have saved clients millions of dollars this past year, there were still many clients that had to pay portions of their assessments from New York. If there are two pieces of advice that I can give every client: Be sure to file your sales and use tax returns, and please keep records. Both of these will help you when the auditor knocks on your door.

We understand that no one likes paying sales tax (or any other tax), but we hope clients see the glass as half full. That they made lots of sales (good), and hopefully made lots of money (better), but need to share with the government so that we can have roads, bridges, and schools to help ensure continual growth & success.

I personally want to wish everyone a phenomenal holiday season, a wondrous new year, and peace and prosperity in the future. May your 2018 be filled with only the best and with more cuddles, hugs, and smiles from our loved ones than we know what to do with!

PS: A glass of water (even when half full) is a taxable beverage, so don't forget to charge tax or get an exemption certificate...
